DOUBLE HOMICIDE AT LAKE BUTLER FRIDAY

J. H. Parker Fatally Shot By Ritch, Who Was in Turn Killed By Former.

J. H. Parker, traveling representative for the Gainesville Hardware Company, on Friday shot and killed Arthur Ritch at Lake Butler after Ritch had shot him first, the ball taking effect in his lungs.

From what could be learned, it seems that Parker, who had finished his labors in working the town, had visited a cool drink stand near the depot, when he met Ritch. The two became involved in an argument which soon became spirited, and it was not long before forcible language was used, but friends of the parties interfered and it was thought the matter was over with.

Later it seems that Ritch became dissatisfied and intercepted Parker just as he was nearing the Coast Line depot, and without warning pulled his gun and fired, the ball taking effect in Parker's lungs and liver.

As soon as the wounded man could do so, it was stated that he pulled his gun and began firing, the first ball taking effect in the breast of Ritch, which was followed by three other rapid shots, all of which entered his body.

Parker was picked up and placed on a stretcher and a physician summoned, who, after looking at the wound, placed the man on Coast Line train No. 40 and carried him to Jacksonville, but expressed the opinion that he would hardly live to take the trip.

Both parties have the reputation of being among the quick tempered ones, always eager to resent what they termed an insult. Ritch is the son of a prominent citizen of Starke and for a long time was engaged in the mercantile business at Lake Butler, but the past few years he has engaged principally in buying and selling horses, often getting them in by droves from the West.

Parker, who is a new citizen of Gainesville, was formerly of Bronson, but for the past few years has worked in various portions of the State, and was for many years in the employ of the railroad company, acting as agent at various places. He resigned this position to remove his family to Gainesville, and later accepted a position with the Gainesville Hardware Company and was doing a nice business for them on the road.

Arthur Ritch lived only a few minutes after being shot. He was a favorite among a number at Lake Butler and leaves a wife and two children to mourn his demise.

Parker Dies En Route.

Information was received in this city Friday night that Mr. Parker died while en route to Jacksonville.

Parker is a young man and leaves a wife and four children to mourn his death, the family now being located on Church street, where they recently moved from East Gainesville. The deceased also has a mother and sister living in this city, and a brother who is at present in South Florida. The remains were taken on to Jacksonville, where they will be prepared and reshipped to this city, but no arrangements had been made as to the funeral, which will probably be held at Bronson, where the deceased's father, Capt. Staff Parker, for many years a contractor on the Seaboard, is buried.

COAST LINE DEPOT WILL BE IMPROVED

WORK OF REMODELLING IS TO COMMENCE NEXT WEEK.

Modern Conveniences to Be Placed in Building and Rooms Will Be Enlarged.

Work on the changes to be made in the A. C. L. passenger depot are to be commenced next week, and it will require some time to make the alterations and rebuild the office according to the new plans.

The new passenger station will be fitted with all of the latest improvements. The white and colored sides are to be divided, having separate doors for entrance and exit, with toilet rooms sufficient to accommodate the travel.

This building will be enlarged, for considerable space is to be taken from the freight department, and the ticket office will be placed farther in front from where it now stands. Doors will be placed in the front of the building on either side where the windows are now located, and doors will also be placed in the sides. The present large double doorway will be closed and the ticket office placed in the front part, opposite the old opening.

With a number of other changes the Coast Line people propose to make they will have a modern and up-to-date place and one that will be highly appreciated by the traveling public who have had to contend with the present poor facilities for the past several years.

MONUMENT UNVEILED AT KINGS MOUNTAIN

Soldiers of the Regular Army and of the Two Carolinas and Tennessee Participated.

KINGS MOUNTAIN, N. C., Oct. 8.—With eloquent oratory and imposing military display, the monument erected to commemorate the battle of Kings Mountain was dedicated yesterday on the battlefield near this place. The Governors of North Carolina and South Carolina and Tennessee, members of Congress and many others prominent in official life, as well as a large concourse of citizens, were present. Soldiers of the regular army and of the National Guard of three States where present as a tribute to the Colonial troops who defeated the British forces in the wilderness of Kings Mountain on October 7, 1780, and thereby turned the tide of the Revolution in favor of the American colonies.

The Kings Mountain Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution had charge of the day's ceremonies. The principal oration was delivered by Henry N. Snyder, president of Wofford College. Other speakers included Governor Ansel of South Carolina, Gov. Kitchin of North Carolina, Congressman D. E. Finley of South Carolina and Congressman E. Y. Webb of North Carolina, to whose combined efforts the memorial owes its being. Governors Brown of Georgia and Patterson of Tennessee sent their regrets.

A feature of the exercises was the reading of an original poem, "Kings Mountain," composed by Mrs. Clare Dargan MacLean, a lineal descendant of one of the leaders in the battle. Music for the lyric was specially composed, and the vast audience joined in singing it, led by the band. Following the oration and the singing of the national anthem Congressmen Webb and Finley responded to the toast The United States of America, with patriotic speeches.

The monument, which was erected by the Federal Government, was admired by every one who saw it. The memorial occupies a conspicuous site on the highest point of the battlefield. The granite shaft, which was designed by Messrs. McKim, Mead & White of New York, stands 115 feet, and is eleven feet square at the base. On the sides are four bronze tablets. The feet on the face of the monument is inscribed as follows:

"To commemorate the victory of Kings Mountain, October 7, 1780. Erected by the Government of the United States, to the establishment of which the heroism and patriotism of those who participated on this battle so largely contributed."

Other tablets are inscribed with the complete roster of the officers on both sides who fell in the battle. The monument, which cost $30,000, is located on the spot where the fighting was heaviest. Nearby is the granite tablet marking the spot where General Ferguson, the British commander, fell, and there is another marking his grave. In this battle, which was regarded as the turning point of the Revolution, the Americans under Sevier and Shell, lost twenty-eight killed and sixty-two wounded, and the British forces, under Ferguson, 119 killed and 123 wounded. This morning, beginning a 9 o'clock, the combined forces of the National Guard of North and South Carolina will fight over again the famous battle, demonstrating to the spectators the movements of the opposing armies, taking the same positions and fighting over the same grounds as did Ferguson's red coats and Sevier's patriots in 1780. The provisional North Carolina troops will be commanded by Col. T. J. Gardner, and the South Carolina troops by Col. W. W. Lewis. The Governors and other distinguished guests remained over for today's battle, and are being entertained at an informal banquet at the little tavern here.

Bank Cashier Is Killed By Augusta Physician

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 8.—H. W. Shaw, a city physician and a local politician, at 2:30 p. m. shot Thomas S. Gray, cashier of the Union Savings Bank. Four shots were fired, two taking effect, one in the left hand and one in the fleshy part of the left leg. C. Henry Cohen, city attorney, and also attorney of the bank named, seized Shaw, sending two of the shots wild and saving Gray from further wounds. Gray last night was at a local hospital and was doing well. There is no likelihood of any serious results from the wounds themselves. Gray is one of the most prominent of the younger men of Augusta. He is a brother of State Railroad Commissioner Gray.

Shaw surreptitiously obtained from the bank information that a customer there had a credit to his account. Using this information, Shaw garnisheed the account. Gray, over the telephone, denounced Shaw for the manner in which he ascertained the information on which he proceeded in the garnishment matter. Shaw proceeded to the bank. He met Gray on the sidewalk. Gray moved toward Shaw, Shaw drawing his pistol and firing on the banker. The affair has caused an intense sensation here. Shaw was at first liberated on bond, but later the sheriff held him without bail.

Admiral Dewey Says That U. S. Navy Is Not a Bluff

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Defending with characteristic vigor the American navy, Admiral George Dewey yesterday asserted that not only is our navy not a "bluff," but that he is confident it would give a good account of itself should war ever come.

The Admiral's remarks were called forth by a statement attributed to former Representative Landis of Indiana, who in a recent speech at Cincinnati, Ohio, in advocating ship subsidy, is reported to have said that "those Americans who are informed consider our navy a bluff." The expression was characterized by Admiral Dewel as an "unfortunate" one.

Declaring that he saw no war clouds gathering on the horizon, Admiral Dewey discussed several phases of the navy. He expressed himself as heartily in favor of ship subsidy legislation, and made a strong plea for the continued upbuilding of the navy.

Referring to the remark attributed to Mr. Landis, Admiral Dewey said, of course, what the former meant was that the navy would be comparatively useless in time of war without necessary auxiliaries drawn from the merchant marine. The Admiral expressed the belief that ship subsidy legislation could be secured were it not for the use of the word "subsidy," which he said many people did not like, because they thought that it meant to give something for nothing.

"But the American navy is not quite so helpless as one might imagine from Mr. Landis' remarks," said the Admiral. "We have 15 colliers and several transports in the service. Of course, these would not be enough in time of war, and I hope that we will continue to add to that number; if we were to have a war we could purchase as many ships as we might need—it would of course be a great deal better if we had them already." The Admiral declared that the United States needed a merchant marine, not only for the value it might possess as furnishing auxiliaries to the navy, but to carry the American flag in the marts of the world.

"But," said Admiral Dewey, "there will be no war. And so long as we go ahead steadily and moderately in adding to our navy, replacing the older ships with the most modern type, thus keeping our navy abreast of the world, no one will ever be able to say, like Mr. Landis, that other nations do not regard the American navy seriously."

William Lucas, day yardmaster at the west yard of the Pennsylvania railroad in Wilmington, Del., bears a striking resemblance to President Taft, both in stature and features. He has just returned from Denver, where a photograph was sold for that of the President, who was there at the same time.

Standard Oil and Armours To Exploit South America

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Bureau of American Republics officials are deeply interested in the reports emanating from New York that a gigantic alliance has been formed between the Standard Oil Co. and the beef trust for purposes of exploration and development in South America. According to these reports the selection of Samuel McRoberts, representing the Armours, to be vice-president of the National City Bank, points to such an alliance. The Argentine and other South American beef, livestock and grain trade is to be pushed by the beef trust, and with the backing of Standard Oil [illegible]outh American bank will be established with branches. For some time it has been represented here that American capital would be found going to South America in increasing volume, and this alliance points to the truth of such representations. At present American investments in South America are light, not exceeding $175,000,000 or $200,000,000, against enormous investments by English, French and others.

Judge Locke's Important New Ruling in Bankruptcy

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 8.—Judge Locke has made an important change in legal phases of bankruptcy through a recent order which was received and filed yesterday morning. His ruling is to the effect that in cases where application is made for adjudication of bankruptcy of an unmarried man, and between the time of filing the application and the adjudication the defendant marries, he will be entitled to the same exemptions as if he was married previous to the application.

This construction of the law will be a new feature in bankruptcy proceedings, but will give to the defendant a greater latitude when such cases are entered. This is the second ruling on exemption in bankruptcy which has been made by Judge Locke during the past few weeks, and shows that he is giving great attention to cases of this kind.

GREAT INTEREST IS CENTERED AT MEETING

CITIZENS ALWAYS ALIVE TO CAUSE OF EDUCATION.

Court House Was Packed Friday Evening to Hear Addresses of Speakers.

The educational rally which has been mentioned frequently in the local columns here for the past few days was a grand success in every way, and the large assemblage present Friday evening at the court house to hear the question discussed is an assurance that education is alive in Gainesville.

Among the more prominent speakers who were here last night, and who had traveled a great distance in order to be with the Gainesville people and assist them in their meeting, was Senator D. U. Fletcher of Jacksonville, Attorney-General Trammell of Tallahassee and Dr. Tribble of Columbia College at Lake City.

State Superintendent Holloway, who is ever on hand to advance the educational interests of the State, was here and was made to feel good at the manner in which his old home city came to the front in this most important question.

It was regretted that Governor Gilchrist was unable to attend this meeting, and while he made every effort to get here, he was delayed at Quincy on some other matters, but he is interested in the work and will meet with the Gainesville people at a later date.

Another important fact that the educational rally on Friday night aroused the old interest in Gainesville in educational matters is the quick way in which the ladies took up the matter, and following the session, which lasted for some time, they at once organized and made arrangements for other meetings which are to be held and the question thoroughly agitated. This will be the second organization of its kind in the State, and much good will doubtless result from the meeting.

Dr. J. L. Keiley, superintendent of county schools, presided over the meeting and gave some interesting facts and figures concerning the advancement in school work in the county, and stated that while the increase had been most satisfactory, it had not compared with the increase in population.

State Superintendent W. M. Holloway followed the remarks of Dr. Keiley and, as on all former occasions, the head of the State educational interests was found to be at his best on this subject, and gave some very interesting information which will materially assist the workers for this cause in Gainesville and Alachua county. The remarks of Superintendent Holloway were heartily received and he elicited the closest attention of his hearers.

Capt. G. M. Lynch, who holds the chair of secondary education in the State University, was the next speaker in order, and the manner in which he handled the question showed that he was thoroughly familiar with the subject. He took up the aims and purposes of the meeting and discussed them at length, dwelling particularly upon the fact that the time for action was now. Capt. Lynch requested that the ladies meet and organize, and with their assistance much good was sure to result from the meeting.

Dr. A. A. Murphree, president of the State University, was at his best on this occasion, and while he has been a resident of Gainesville only a short while the citizens fully realize that he is the right man in the right place at the University, and they now feel more satisfied than ever that the institution is bound to progress under his able management. The address of Dr. Murphree was filled with many important points and was closely listened to by the audience.

Dr. W. H. Tribble, president of Columbia College, was present and made a short and most interesting address on the question of education. His remarks were timely and highly appreciated by his hearers.

Attorney-General Park Trammell of Tallahassee made a most excellent address upon the cause of education. He is enthused over the question and never fails to lend his assistance for its advancement.

Dr. Thaxton, dean of school of education at the University, addressed the meeting, stating the importance of the work that had been outlined, and he hoped that much good would result from the steps that had been taken.

While he was not on the program as one of the speakers, Hon. W. A. Blount, candidate for the U. S. Senate, was present and, after being called upon, addressed the meeting. He at once outlined the importance of the question and said he would give his influence and time to further the interests of education whenever called upon by the people to do so.

Hon. D. U. Fletcher, U. S. Senator, was one of the main speakers of the occasion, and at this time he showed that he had given the matter some thought, for his remarks were highly received by those present.

Col. R. E. Davis responded to repeated calls, and in a few well-chosen remarks fully endorsed the propaganda as it was submitted by the learned speakers, and stated that in behalf of the citizens of Gainesville he felt justified in stating that this city would ever be found alive and working for the interests of education. Since the early days, and in the time of the old East Florida Seminary, Gainesville was looked upon for her educational advantages, and the people in this day and time would maintain that high reputation.

Congressman Frank Clark was next called upon. He fully endorsed the movement and felt that it was proper at all times to advance school interests. This is the first movement ever made in the history of the State in this line, and he felt that it could and would bring results with the assistance of the dear ladies, and he knew that was ever coming from Gainesville. As is always the case, Congressman Clark's address was one of the most interesting delivered, and while it was only impromptu, it proved to be full of interest, and he closed by stating that his adopted home would fully maintain the high and noble reputation it had made in being among the first to advance education.

A telegram was read from the ladies of Marianna stating that an organization had been perfected as the Ladies' Educational Association as a result of the big rally held in that place on last Tuesday night, as they desired to be recognized as the first of its kind in the State.

MISSIONARY'S WIFE PRAISES CUTICURA

Daughter's Head Encrusted with Dandruff—Feared she Would Lose her Hair—Many Treatments were Futile—Baby had Milk-Crust.

BOTH CHILDREN CURED BY FAMOUS REMEDIES

"For several years my husband was a missionary in the Southwest, and we were living on the edge of the desert at an elevation of nearly five thousand feet. Every one in that high and dry atmosphere has more or less trouble with dandruff and my daughter's scalp became so encrusted with it that I was alarmed for fear she would lose all her hair, which was very heavy. After spending between five and six dollars for various remedies, in desperation I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment. After rubbing the Cuticura Ointment thoroughly into the roots of the hair, I gently combed the crust of dandruff free from the scalp, and then gave her head a thorough shampoo with the Cuticura Soap. This left the scalp beautifully clean and free from dandruff, and after the hair was dry, I again rubbed the Cuticura Ointment, this time sparingly, into the roots, and I am happy to say that the Cuticura Remedies were a complete success. My troubles with dandruff were over, although for a long time afterward I used the Cuticura Ointment as at first, after shampooing, which kept the scalp and roots of the hair moist. I have used successfully the Cuticura Remedies for so-called 'milk-crust' on baby's head, and have never found anything to equal them. You are at liberty to publish this letter, for I do sincerely believe that the Cuticura Remedies are a blessing to mankind. Mrs. J. A. Darling, 310 Fifth St., Carthage, Ohio, Jan. 20, 1908."

Cuticura Ointment is one of the most successful curatives for torturing, disfiguring humors of the skin and scalp, including loss of hair, ever compounded, in proof of which a single anointing with it, preceded by a hot bath with Cuticura Soap, and followed, when necessary, by a mild dose of Cuticura Resolvent (liquid or pills) is often sufficient to afford immediate relief of itching, burning and scaly humors, eczemas, irritations and inflammations, permit rest and sleep, and point to a speedy cure when all else fails.

HAD EYE KNOCKED OUT.

Became Engaged in "Scrap" With Another Negro Thursday.

An unknown negro of Paradise was brought to the city Friday with his right eye knocked out, and which was so badly mashed that it had to be taken off the remaining strings from which it was hanging.

The patient was taken to Drs. Dell and DePass, who performed the operation and stated that with the exception of the soreness and loss of the eye the negro would soon be all right and able to resume his labors.

It was learned that he became engaged in a fight with another negro at that point and the negro knocked out the eye with a heavy hickory stick, afterwards making his escape. The names of neither party could be learned.

THEATRE PARTY WAS LARGELY ATTENDED

MANY LITTLE HEARTS MADE GLAD BY THE SUN.

Nearly Three Hundred Tickets Issued for This Event at the Baird Theatre.

The Baird play-house was packed Friday evening as a result of the free theatre party of The Sun which was given to the little boys and girls of the city ranging under and up to the age of twelve years.

During all of Thursday and Friday the office was at times besieged by the little ones calling for tickets, and it is safe to state that no movement ever attempted before for the pleasure of the children was enjoyed one half so much as on this occasion.

The Sun, realizing that such a scheme would be highly appreciated, and at the same time be remembered by the little ones, made arrangements with Messrs Voyle & McCollum for the party and tendered the show to them free, without any strings or attachments, with the result that we passed up just 291 tickets for their entertainment.

This large number, added to the regular attendance of the older ones, gave the house the largest audience that was ever assembled in the place, and both the management and The Sun feel highly repaid for the splendid way in which the show was received by the children, for it is not only an entertainment, but is also a place of learning for them to a certain extent.

The attractions that are booked for the Electric Theatre at the present time are the best that has ever been given in the city. All of the motion pictures are of the new style and flickerless, while the illustrated songs are changed nightly and are always new.

THE DAILY SUN,

There are people with natures so perverted that they are equally ready to shed tears over dead dogs and let their families starve.

For every dollar invested in poultry in the State of Maryland last year $3.15 worth of products were sold. Is this business under-capitalized?

To do well we must think well. Water will not rise higher than its source and human performance will not go beyond the reflection from which it starts.

A two-legged creature is not necessarily a man—he may be only an apology for one. To be a man demands industry, right living and strength of will.

The Great Northern railroad has put into operation a daily mail service with a gain of 24 hours in delivery of Eastern mail in Puget Sound cities. At last this country has what it has long claimed, the fastest long-distance train in the world.

Miss Nellie Horton of Fort Worth, Texas, has been elected treasurer and secretary of the Farmers' Union of the State. She has just passed her twenty-fifth birthday. The Farmers' Union is said to have upward of 250,000 members.

Labor is so scarce in some sections of California that the school children have been granted a "walnut vacation" in order that they may help the owners of walnut ranches gather their crop. Since the youngsters are making big money they prefer the walnut branches, no doubt to the other branches of study.

Chicago is considering an ordinance providing that all steam railroads entering the city shall electrify their lines within eight miles of city hall before January 1, 1912. Such a move would be popular with the copper mines. It is what they are praying for to make a market for the enormous output they continue to take out.

The postoffice department is requiring recipients of general delivery mail at the offices in large cities to furnish their names and addresses, with signatures for future indentification. This rule is adopted to check use of the mails for improper purposes. The postal service has been used as a substitute for the "personal" advertisements most reputable newspapers now bar.

The administration at Washington is taking a lively interest in the gubernatorial campaign now in progress in Virginia. And for once Virginia Republicans are really hopeful of carrying the State. Not in recent years have the Democrats of the Old Dominion been so split up. The feeling engendered during the primaries several months ago was most bitter. The Democratic candidates, Judge Mann and former Representative Henry St. George Tucker, fought a campaign full of sharp personalities that has left not a few sore spots. Judge Mann won out in the primaries, but not until the Tucker followers had given the Republicans some of the best material they ever had to fight with.

OKLAHOMA'S DRASTIC LAWS.

Oklahoma's laws, like her constitution, are full of experimental features, and both are coming more or less into collision with the Federal courts. As is well known, the State has undertaken to carry out a drastic plan of conserving her natural gas, a product in which she is particularly rich. By indirection her laws have been so framed that it could not be piped out of the State. While a direct inhibition was not attempted, a section was incorporated in the constitution denying to any corporation the right of eminent domain, or the use of the highways, unless it would first take out a domestic charter, after which, it was reasoned, the State could lay such restrictions as it saw fit. Here was a clever conservation scheme of its own, and one perhaps that would have attained its purpose had there been no United States courts to reckon with.

There has naturally been considerable resistance to this arbitrary regulation. In incidental rulings the courts have made it plain that they were not prepared to uphold the State in restricting the sale of gas within her own borders. More directly to the point is the intelligence that Judge Campell of the Eastern District Federal Court will put into effect a far-reaching temporary injunction that prohibits State officers from interfering with the companies to pipe gas into other States. The product is held to be one of interstate commerce, as much as corn, wheat or coal, and Oklahoma has no more right to exclude the rest of the world from its benefits than in the case of any other staple. It was an attempt to establish an imperium in perio, to claim for itself the exclusive benefit of privileges with which nature had endowed it.

"Old-fashioned chivalry toward women" is dying out in St. Louis, and "conditions are worse" in New York and Chicago, which signifies, perhaps, that chivalry is dead; so, by way of reviving it in his own city, a St. Louis manufacturer has begun the distribution of "true-blue buttons," which will signal to any woman who enters a street car that the wearer is truly chivalrous and that she is welcome to his seat. "To me it is shameful," says the projector of this laudable enterprise, "to see men holding seats in street cars while women are required to hang on straps. It is not fair; it is not manly. I believe that if a man will wear one of my true-blue buttons for a week he will become fixed in old-fashioned chivalry toward women." Likewise, it appears—for sweet are the uses of adversity and advertising—he will help to fix an interesting fact on each beholder's memory. The buttons bear the name of the philanthropist who provides them.

Mr. Hearst has got to run for mayor of New York again, whether he wants to or not, says The Savannah News. An interesting circumstance in connection with New York politics is how that man Hearst has grown on the town the past few years. It hasn't been so very long since a great many safe and sane New Yorkers looked upon the exotic from California as a most undesirable citizen and dangerous person. They used to frighten their children when they were naughty by threats that Hearst would catch them if they didn't watch out. To their minds there was only one evil influence beyond Hearst—the chap that Lewis Morrison made famous. Now some of these same staid old conservative New Yorkers are sitting at Hearst's feet and eating crumbs out of his hands. It's a droll world, gentlemen!

SCHOOLS AND LAND VALUES.

Probably in every community which votes local tax for schools, land values in a very few years advance to double the amount of school-tax money voted, says The Progressive Farmer. And this is but one of a hundred ways in which better schools pay for themselves many times over. The whole life of the community is richer and finer wherever there is a good school at its center; the citizens feel a pride in it such as they never felt before, and everything in the neighborhood begins to catch step with the new standard of progress thus set up. It is not the fertility of the land that makes it valuable: it is the intelligence of the community in which it is situated. Land in Africa today is more fertile than the average Southern farmer of the uplands ever saw, but it is practically worthless because of an ignorant population, while land in Belgium, originally little more than a sand-waste, has become intensely valuable by reason of the presence of an intelligent population, and intensely fertile by reason of the wise methods of cultivation practiced by these intelligent farmers. Even if a man has no boy or girl to send, the school tax investment is a good one for any property-holder because of the increase in values that always results from the presence of an intelligent citizenship.

Professor Campbell of Lick conservatory, after photographing Mars and taking various observations from the summit of Mt. Whitney, declares that Mars is extinct beyond a doubt. Of course such a conclusion is opposed to the theory of Professor Lowell, who was much encouraged by the discovery of water vapor in the atmospheric envelope of Mars two years ago..

Columbia University authorities are naturally astonished by receipt of a document in which the father of a freshman announces that he has delivered his son to them on a contract calling for the return of a duly qualified "A. B." and "LL. B." at the end of six years. They can furnish instructions, but they cannot furnish brains.

DR. N. D. PHILLIPS.

Beautiful Tribute to One of Gainesville's Best Citizens.

Dr. Newton DeKalb Phillips, whose remains were laid to rest in Evergreen Cemetery on the 7th inst., had practiced medicine in Gainesville for thirty years, only retiring from practice about five years prior to his death. He was one of the most skilful surgeons in the South, and one of the pioneers of advanced surgery in Florida. He was at one time president of the State Medical Association of Florida, and his opinions have ever been held in the highest esteem by his colleagues throughout the State. He was a born physician, and brought to the aid of his skill, confident, genial manners that inspired confidence in his patients, and gave them courage to fight disease. Blessed with a fine physique, straight, tall and handsome, he was regarded as one of the most strikingly distinguished looking men in the State.

Though devoted to his adopted State of Florida, and keenly interested in anything pertaining to her welfare, Dr. Phillips was a native of Mississippi, having been born in Hines county, that State, May 30th, 1835, and while still a child removed with his parents to Jasper county, same State. In 1860 he graduated from Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and at the outbreak of the Civil War entered the Southern army as battalion surgeon, Smith's Battery, Army of Tennessee, participating in many of the most sanguinary battles of the war, among them the great battles in the vicinity of Chattanooga. He was a fine conversationalist, and many who enjoyed his intimate acquaintance will remember his graphic description of those stirring scenes.

Dr. Phillips was twice married. His first wife, who was Miss Annie Jordan, lived but a year after marriage; and he was again married in 1869 to Miss Kate Jordan, who survives him. Five children were born of this marriage, and but two are now living—Mrs. C. B. Wilmer of Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Lemuel R. Woods of Tampa, Fla. He is also survived by nine grandchildren. Other relatives in this State are: Mrs. W. W. Hampton and family, Mrs. C. J. Richards and family, and the family of Mr. B. F. Jordan.

Few men who have lived in Gainesville were so universally loved and respected as Dr. Phillips, and the closing of the business houses of the city that all might attend his funeral ceremonies was an evidence of that love and respect. For more than thirty years he was a familiar figure on the streets of Gainesville, one of her leaders, and one of her most distinguished citizens. On every page of her history in those years his name will be written, and always in letters of gold. During the yellow fever epidemic of 1888 he gave his services as a physician, and was also a member of the board of health. While ministering to others he contracted the fever and came near losing his own life.

A consistent Christian, he was very prominent in church work, and was for many years vestryman and junior warden of Trinity church.

For several years he had been in failing health, and a recent accident, resulting in a broken hip, hastened his death, which occurred at the residence of his son-in-law, Wylie Travis, in Jacksonville, on the 6th inst. Fortunately, nearly all the immediate members of his family were present in his last moments.

Thus ends the mortal career of a good man who cherished the highest ideals and lived up to them; who never shirked a duty; who, though gentle and sympathetic as a woman, became masterful in time of stress, and who, having lived a clean, beautiful life, approached his end of a waterspout attempting to drop down from the clouds out over the ocean about east from the Royal Poinciana Hotel pier. A heavy bordered cloud was passing to the southeast when its lower edge projected a point at first that soon lengthened out into a "spout" at times 100 to 150 feet long apparently, though probably much longer. It seemed to attempt to reach down into the ocean, but at no time did it connect with the water below. It lasted for some fifteen minutes or so until the cloud approached the land, but finally it slowly drew up and finally disappeared in the clouds.

I Suffered with Kidney Trouble.

Mr. Robert H. Norris, 566 East 11th St., East Oakland, Cal., writes:

"We have never had any other medicine but Peruna in our home since we have been married.

"I suffered with kidney and bladder trouble, but two months' treatment with Peruna made me a well and strong man.

"My wife felt weak and was easily tired and was also troubled with various pains, but since she took Peruna she is well and strong.

"We are both very grateful to you and gladly do we give this unsolicited testimonial, feeling that it is the least we can do in return for what Peruna has done for us."

Catarrh Entirely Relieved.

Mr. Ira Henney, Fairfield, Freestone Co., Texas, writes:

"I am completely cured of all symptoms of catarrh.

"I can truly say that Peruna is the best medicine I ever saw. I will always recommend Peruna to all my friends, for catarrh."

Catarrh of Head.

Mr. C. Hallock, Antwerp, Ohio, writes:

"My daughter Allie, after taking three bottles of your Peruna, is entirely cured of catarrh of the head of two years' standing. We recommend Peruna to anybody who has catarrh."

Peruna is manufactured by the Peruna Drug Mfg. Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Col. Blount Visits Gainesville.

Col. W. A. Blount of Pensacola was a most welcome visitor to The Sun office yesterday. Col. Blount is visiting the more important towns of the State in the interest of his candidacy for the United States Senate, and is making a good impression with the people. He is regarded as the ablest lawyer in Florida and is universally beloved by the people of West Florida, where he is best known. At the unanimous request of the Democrats of Escambia county he served four years in the State Senate, declining re-election. The people of Gainesville were glad to have the distinguished gentleman spend the day here, and extended him a cordial welcome.

By a special invitation from President Murphree, Mr. Blount delivered an impromptu speech before the student body after chapel exercises yesterday morning.

THE FLORIDA LIFE.

An Insurance Company That Makes Prompt Payment of Claims.

The late Dr. Harry Linwood Pearce of Gainesville was insured with the Florida Life Insurance Company of Jacksonville for $5,000, and the company has just paid to Mrs. Lyde Bowers Pearce, wife and beneficiary, the full amount of the insurance.

The advertisement of the company in this paper gives the interesting facts and proofs of the expedient manner in which the claim of Mrs. Pearce was paid, and which should convince everyone of the importance and efficacy of dealing with the Florida Life Insurance Company.

The company believes in keeping Florida money at home, and has a number of banks throughout the State designated as their depositories where they keep the money deposited which is collected in those respective sections and through which loans are made to applicants. In doing this the company is nobly assisting in developing the State's resources.

Two of the company's prominent representatives, Messrs. Stripling and Carpenter, are now in Gainesville and are operating with success in this territory. They are able insurance men and will be pleased to call upon anyone who desires information about insurance, and will take pleasure in explaining their attractive plans to any prospective insurers.

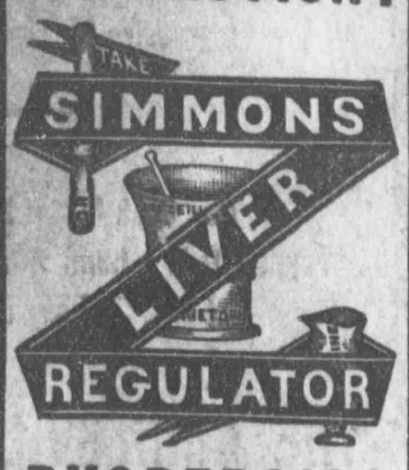
INDIGESTION?



DYSPEPSIA?

Travel in 1760.

In these days of rapid transit a paragraph from a Yorkshire paper of 1760 is interesting. It is an account of a London merchant's journey from London to Dublin and back. Leaving London on Monday evening, the traveler reached Liverpool on Wednesday morning, in time to catch the packet for Dublin, which city he reached on Thursday. During that day he transacted his business in the capital, and next morning sailed for Liverpool, arriving there on Saturday. Monday saw him back in London, and his journey was complete, having taken only eight days! "And," concludes the writer, "there is every reason to believe that it will be possible to beat even this performance in the near future."—London Family Journal.

"Generally debilitated for years. Had sick headaches, lacked ambition, was worn-out and all run-down. Burdock Blood Bitters made me a well woman."—Mrs. Chas Freitoy, Moosup, Conn.

A POWERFUL PRAYER.

It Brought the Judge's Kind of Light to the Farmer.

"The late Judge Underhill," said F. D. Browne of the engineering department of the Southern Pacific, "was perhaps one of the greatest characters that ever entered the service of a railroad. It was his facile disposition that led to his being appointed right of way agent by the Southern Pacific.

"Underhill was all things to all men. The ribald called him a reckless blade, the learned called him one of the elect, and the good character declared that the pulpit would have had one of its brightest ornaments if he had only heard the call.

"He was the most successful right of way getter that the company ever had.

"Underhill was sent up against a tough proposition. There was a farmer whose land lay right in the path of the road, and he was coy about selling. Underhill was sent to see him. They were out driving when the farmer turned to Underhill and said:

"'I want to do the right thing, judge. I have prayed all night for guidance in this matter, and I have not been given light.'

"'We will pray for light right now,' said Underhill, and, getting on his knees, he made a fervent prayer for the farmer to sell his land to the Southern Pacific.

"Awestruck, the farmer listened on his knees to the powerful invocation of the judge, and when Underhill resumed his seat in the buggy he said:

"'I have been given light, judge. I'll sell the land at the figure you name.'"—San Francisco Call.

Who Pays For Your Printing?

Poor printing is a detriment to any buisness, and is an unprofitable investment. Poor printing is usually paid for twice—once when you settle with the printer, and again in the injury it does your business.

GOOD PRINTING PAYS FOR ITSELF!

In the added business it brings, in the complete satisfaction you feel in sending out neat, tasty stationery, and its first cost is soon on the credit side of the ledger. Good printing is remembered long after the price is forgotten.
